Required minimum distributions: The Internal Revenue (IRS) requires that you begin receiving distributions from your contract by a certain date. The distributions that you must receive are known as required minimum distributions.

Required beginning date: The required beginning date is April 1st following the year the contract owner attains age 70½.

- If you delay taking your first required minimum distribution until April 1st, you will be required to take your second required minimum distribution by December 31st of that same year.
- Required minimum distributions for each subsequent year will need to be taken by December 31st of each calendar year.
- If you fail to take your required minimum distribution when due, the Internal Revenue Service may assess a penalty.
- A change in beneficiary designation may significantly affect the required minimum distribution election.

- Understand the withdrawal and surrender features and process as stated in the contract or prospectus (if applicable).
- Understand and assume full responsibility for meeting the Internal Revenue Code requirements to qualify for this distribution. You further agree to hold the Company harmless for any adverse tax ramification that may arise based on the information provided on this form.
- Authorize the direct deposit of the payment into the account identified on this form.
